Reflection:
Welcome back to this very special year
as we take time to reflect on “Yesterday, today and tomorrow”.

We celebrate 50 years as a school. How quickly time has passed since the college opened its doors in 1964. We were privileged as a staff to have Sister
Marie Cantwell and Sister Maggie Reynolds journey from Sydney to share with our staff the Daughters of Charity connections to St Vincent de Paul, Louise de Marillac and Elizabeth Seton. These connections with our past are vital for us to find our way into the future.

Also this year we have received a most unique and treasured gift in the form of an Art Work from one of our parents, Jenny McNamara-Furlong.
Jenny worked for over 12 months to produce an exquisite representation of Elizabeth Seton that now hangs on the front reception wall. I invite you all to take the time to come and meet Elizabeth as she hangs so proudly, reminding us all
about our strong connections to the past.
Extract from the Artists Statement.

I wanted to create a saintly, yet modern Elizabeth Seton that children could identify with as a real person. She was a person who experienced, great love and huge loss in her short life of 46 years and through the tragedy and sadness she became strong and courageous and had a zest for survival. So I wanted her to be soft in appearance but to have a strong presence within the painting. When you look into her eyes I want you to feel comforted by her compassion, kindness and hope.

(I have to admit I have been tempted throughout the week to take credit for this beautiful piece as Jenny has used McNamara as the artist signature—sadly too many people are aware of my inability to draw stick figures properly and so I have been forced to give credit where credit is due.)

Let us pray that the year ahead is a time of peace and joy for us all where we take up the challenge and live life to the full as Elizabeth always did.

Prayer: St Therese of Lisieux
May today there be peace within. May you trust God that you are exactly where you are meant to be. May you not forget the infinite possibilities that are born of faith. May you use those gifts that you have received, and pass on the love that has been given to you. May you be content knowing you are a child of God. Let this presence settle into your bones, and allow your soul the freedom to sing, dance, praise, and love. It is there for each and every one of us.

Amen

Peace and Blessings to you
Helen McNamara

Dear Parents, Staff and Students

Welcome back, everyone, to this Year of Celebration!

This year we celebrate Seton’s 50th anniversary!

At the start of this anniversary year, welcome to the new members of our community for 2014. I hope that each family experiences the welcoming nature and generosity of spirit of this community and will soon begin to feel a sense of belonging.

Seton College is a Catholic school open to those who share the values of our Catholic faith. We attempt always to “show the face of Jesus to everyone we meet”. It is our hope that everyone should experience the spirit of trust, goodwill, and the genuine concern for all members of the community as we attempt to live out this ideal.

I am hopeful that this year will be a rewarding year for all students as they take up the many opportunities provided for them to develop in character and reach their academic potential. It is our aim to provide an environment where each student can flourish and feel a sense of achievement within a community where they are respected and cared for.

The following prayer might be useful for a few moments of quiet meditation for us all at the start of a new school year.

God of new beginnings, You are the source of all knowledge. Keep us focused in our studies, activities and friendships. Help us to understand that all study is prayer and part of the way we seek you. Above all, give us hopeful and joy filled hearts.

Amen.

Staff Information:
We welcome to the Seton Community four new teaching members of staff: Mr Dean Aspland who will be working largely within the Humanities and Religion teams; Ms Markella Vergotis who will be working in the Maths. and HPE departments; Mr Gavin Milton who will be working in the Technical Education and HPE departments and Mrs Antoniette Forrester who will be working on our Learning Enhancement Team.

As you may know, the college counsellor, Mrs Taylor Foxley, has been on extended leave and has now decided to resign from the position. We thank her for her service to this community and wish her well for the future. Hence, Ms Kirsteen Bostock will continue this year in the role of full time school Counsellor. This permanent position will be advertised later this year.

In addition we will also have a part time Counsellor [two days per week] and this role is yet to be filled. We hope to have the role filled within the next couple of weeks.

We farewell from the College staff Mr Merv Brennan. Mr Brennan has been a teacher aide in the Technical Education Department and on the staff since 2001. Last year he suffered a period of ill health and has recently had further surgery thereby bringing forward his decision to retire. We thank him of his service to this community and wish him a long and happy retirement.

As previously advised, Mrs Olga Clarke has been diagnosed with a serious health issue and is presently undergoing therapy. We ask you to keep her in your prayers over the next few months as she faces this difficult challenge. We continue to ask you to keep in your prayers Mrs Annette Thrum who continues with therapy that is likely to last for at least six more months.

Mr Tom Dowden, the present Deputy Principal, has been granted leave by the Executive Director from his position with effect from February 24th to the end of the school year. He and his wife will be serving as missionaries in Perth, Western Australia as part of the Neocatechumenal Movement within the Catholic Church. We wish him well in this generous endeavour and pray that their Mission will bear abundant fruit for our Church. Mrs Helen McNamara has been appointed Acting Deputy Principal in his absence. We welcome her to this new role.

Professional Development:
The teachers were involved in four days of professional development and planning last week. This included:
- A day spent on the spirituality and traditions of the Daughters of Charity of St. Vincent de Paul from whom the college draws its charism. This was led by Sr. Marie Cantwell, a former Principal of the college, and Sr. Maggie Reynolds another member of the Daughters of Charity. An important part of this was staff reflecting on the Mission and Vision of the College in the light of its charism.
- A half day session for the whole staff on Health and Safety and Student Protection matters.
- Sessions on the new BCE Learning Management System.
- Curriculum Planning and subject specific meetings.

Enrolments:
Our total enrolment this year is 280 students. This increase is a result of our Senior school now being at the maximum size: over 100 students. This is a positive development and a vindication of the curriculum developments in the Senior School. We endeavor to keep our Junior school at about 60 students in each level, but with Year 7 beginning next year the total school numbers will increase further. If you have family or friends that are intending to enrol a student in Year 7 or 8 please encourage them to apply as soon as possible.

Physical Environment:
Over the holidays a number of garden improvements and maintenance tasks were completed together with a variety of painting jobs being carried out. My thanks to Mr Bob Burns, Mr Wayne Hansen, Mr Michael Heath, Mr Mike Clancy and Mr Berian Carstairs for all their efforts in this regard. It is greatly appreciated.

Building Program:
I am happy to report that over the summer break the work on the new Science Labs was completed. We move into the Labs this week. Work will continue on the Year 7 building, amenities, Art and Drama rooms. We have also decided to extend the Creative Arts court and to cover a large part of it. This will mean that the project will not be completely finished till the end of Term 1.

Curriculum Plans:
Last year the College continued its review of the Curriculum within the context of the Australian Curriculum. The focus has been on English, Religious Education, Mathematics, Science and History. Most of the units in English and History have been completed. Considerable progress has been made in reviewing and rewriting units of work in Religious education, Mathematics and Science and this will continue and be completed this year.

This year also sees the implementation of the only QSA Authority subject Mathematics A in the Senior School.

VET News:
Last year was an extremely successful year for the College in the area of VET. I am very pleased to say that in 2013
there was a significant increase in the awarding of school based Traineeships and Apprenticeships for students at this College. If your child is in Year 10 or above, you could encourage them to apply for one of these as it is an excellent and paid start to a career.

As many of you will know, Seton College has a number of sayings or mottos. One of these is: “Everyone has the right to have a happy day”. It is the responsibility of each member of the community to act kindly to each other and to not do anything that would result in others not having a happy day.

Best wishes for an enjoyable 2014

Chris Raju [Principal]

from the Deputy Principal...

Dear Parents and Students,
Welcome back for Semester 1, 2014. I pray that God will make Himself known to us this year and that his favour will rest on all of us in the Seton community.

The Deputy Principal is available to students and parents in matters relating to the day to day running of the school. This includes the general wellbeing of students, behaviour management, timetabling and, together with the Curriculum Coordinator, subject changes and matters of curriculum. You are invited to contact the Deputy Principal through the office with any concerns regarding your child’s education here at Seton.

At Seton, our Behaviour Management is based on the principle of mutual respect and as teachers we are vigilant in ensuring that student are speaking and acting in ways that support and encourage each other. If situations arise that have the opposite effect, we are required to act quickly and steer errant students back onto acceptable ways of interacting and behaving. Parental support is so important in our operational procedures that to be able to provide the best possible opportunities for each and every student, the partnership between home and school needs to open and supportive.

In 2014 Brisbane Catholic Education has granted me leave for the year to take up a voluntary position in one of the Archdiocesan Seminaries in Perth, Western Australia, to assist in the education and language skills of candidates for the priesthood. This is a great privilege for both my wife and I and we are looking forward to a year of working with the Church in a very different environment. I will be finishing up on Friday 21 February with Mrs Helen McNamara acting as Deputy Principal for the remainder of the year.

My very best wishes to you all for the year. I am confident that the many exciting events that will unfold will be rewarding and educational. See you 2015.

Tom Dowden
Deputy Principal from the

Back to School Behaviour Tips: How to Set Up a Structure That Works
by Janet Lehman
Why is it so hard to get back in the groove again when the school year rolls around? The answer is simple: summer is different. There is less structure and more freedom. If you’ve fallen into a lack of routine over the summer, here are a few suggestions for families to try.

Find Someone at the School with Whom You Can Align. Try to find somebody in the school who you can “partner” with, someone who’s going to help you help your child do better academically, socially or behaviourally. It might be a teacher who understands and likes your child, or the guidance counsellor or campus minister who can connect you with resources. The important thing is to try to make some positive relationships with people in the school. Your child is going to be there for the year, so the more people who you can team up with, the better.

Remember That It’s Never Too Late to establish structure. If structure is needed now, it will always be needed. It’s not something that goes away. The good news is that it can be introduced at any time. Figure out what the expectations are, what the structure needs to be, and then introduce it in the best way to help your child. For some kids, that’s going to be talking to them and being honest about what needs to happen. This might include saying something like, “We haven’t gotten our act together yet as a family, but we’re going to do that now. It’s going to be helpful for all of us to get a new schedule going.” With other kids, you need to just set up the structure and say, “We’re all going to need to follow this now.” Don’t be afraid to be honest. Parents also need to plan how the school week looks, how you will get everyone to their activities, how you will fit in homework time, which papers need to be signed and returned to school and how you will manage to keep things on an even keel. It’s challenging for everyone, but it’s really never too late.

Look for the Lesson. It’s good to think about the previous school year and look at it as a lesson. Go back to last year and say, “What was my area of greatest pain?” You might also ask, “What was my area of greatest learning?” Ideally, you’ve learned something from last year. The struggles we go through are often the things that teach us the most. So try to combine what you learned with what really was the most difficult thing you and your child dealt with. Use that knowledge to prepare for and inform your decisions in the coming year.

Kids with Learning Disabilities: It’s particularly hard for kids with learning disabilities to go back to school. It’s going to be really important to set clear limits and have a positive discussion with your child about school. Try not to enter into these conversations with a negative frame of mind about the school; that won’t help your child. Instead, come in with realistic goals about how the school can match your child’s learning needs and how you can partner with the school to support those needs.

Kids with Anxiety: For kids with anxiety, it may be really hard to do too much talking about school before it begins, because it’s just going to raise their fears. Keep the conversation short and sweet. Be open to hearing what your child has to say about school so that if they do get anxious they can come to you to talk about it. Be a safe place for them to take those worries—and then move on from them. Don’t focus on them and don’t take them on as your own. If your child has a certain anxiety about PE or algebra you can ask, “How are we going to solve it?” Kids who are anxious are going to see one giant bundle of problems. Your job is to pull that apart and help them tackle one thing at a time. Pick the thing your child is most likely to succeed at, and go from there.

Finally, be kind to yourself and reduce your own expectations that you have to “solve everything.” Try to say, “If it was a terrible year last year, this will be a better year. It may not be perfect, but it can be better”. Read more at: www.empoweringparents.com from the VET Dept...

Welcome back to all students undertaking VET and Work Experience. This will be a big year for our Year 12 students preparing for their final year of school. It is important that all students continue to take their work experience seriously in order to hopefully move to employment or other pathways at the end of the year. Make sure that the work placements are worthwhile and aiming towards their career paths.

Year 11 students have a very busy first term undertaking a personal development course with Natja Gourgoulas. Natja is a model who owns and runs 5+ International gown businesses. Natja has run this program with us at Seton College for the past three years and it has proven to be very successful. Students learn how to present themselves professionally, for example, good posture while walking and sitting, table etiquette for those business lunches and dinners they will be attending and public speaking to name a few of the skills.

This course concludes with a mini graduation on Wednesday evening, 6th March 2013 where parents can view the great work their child has learnt over the past 5 weeks.

And of course, welcome to our newcomers, Year 10 students. What an exciting year they are embarking on. We start off with our Certificate I in Work Readiness for Semester One where students learn about various work topics, i.e. occupational health and safety, rights and responsibilities, job search and interview skills, career and learning development plans. This is followed in Semester Two by Work Experience.

All Year 10 students will attend Work Experience on Fridays commencing in Semester Two. More in-depth information will be provided on the Year 10 Parent Information Evening, Wednesday 19th February 2014. This is an evening not to be missed as there is a lot of information to discuss with parents.

Lunch Box Ideas:

It has been great to see some wonderfully packed, nutritious lunches in the yard since the students have returned. Here are some ideas if you are struggling with lunches after week 1.
A healthy lunch keeps active teenagers alert and focused and gives them the nutrition they need every day. But no matter how healthy your child’s lunch box is, it won’t provide any nutritional value if it doesn’t get eaten!

The solution is to make packed lunches as interesting and nutritious as possible – and to encourage your child to be involved in filling their own lunchbox from a range of healthy options. It doesn’t have to be difficult, time-consuming or expensive. For example; sandwiches and rolls – a favourite among lots of kids – or a salad are simple and easy to prepare. Here are some simple, tasty and nutritious ideas for you to try when preparing your child’s lunchbox.

What to put in the lunchbox

A good helping of fruit and vegetables

Fresh fruit is easy to pack. You can also try a tub of canned fruit or chopped fresh grapes, pineapple or melon. Raw vegies such as carrot sticks, cherry tomatoes, cucumber or capsicum strips are popular as a snack or in a sandwich.

Cereal based foods

Have a variety to choose from, such as wholegrain, holomeal or high fibre breads, such as seeded rolls, Lebanese bread, pita, wraps, or perhaps you could include a rice salad.

Lean protein

Why not try small cans of tuna or salmon (fresh or canned in spring water or oils such as canola, sunflower or olive oil); boiled eggs; or lean meat such as beef or chicken with a salad.

Reduced fat dairy food

Try some fat reduced cheese with crackers for morning tea or some yoghurt – remember a spoon to eat it with and make sure it will still be cold at lunch.

A bottle of water

Keep your child hydrated all day. Freeze on hot days to keep the lunch box (and your child) nice and cool.

Nutritious snacks

Try a small box or bag of dried fruit, rice cakes or unsalted and unsweetened popcorn.

There are a number of programs available for families who care for children with autism. Resilient Parents is an eight week program commencing on 5th February at the Autism Queensland Education and Therapy Centre in Sunnybank Hills. Contact Debbie Wiggins

There is another lunchtime session on 12th February from 11.30-1.00 on Puberty and changes in children with autism including Asperger’s syndrome at Chermside. Contact Sharon Horan on 3216 0777 for more information.

Autism Behavioural Intervention Queensland proudly presents The ABIQ Seminar Series by Professor Tony Atwood, Wednesday the 12th February: Puberty & ASD.

from the Campus Minister...

This year we have some exciting new things planned in the school. We will be having a weekly lunchtime youth group on Wednesdays. This will be a chance for students to play games, pray and learn about the Christian faith in a fun way. We will be moving our St Vinnies group to Monday lunchtimes. Vinnies is an opportunity to be part of a wonderful group who fundraise, learn about social justice and make a difference in the world. Everyone is most welcome to come to either Vinnies or youth group.

Ignite Live

Ignite Live is a monthly event that goes off with live music & a talk that relates to your life – no matter what you’re going through or where you’re at. This is an experience of faith that is all about being filled up with the love, passion and strength you need to go back and impact your corner of the world. Combines a festival atmosphere, praise and worship, reconciliation and prayer teams.

Next Ignite Live is Sunday February 16 at ACU Brisbane Campus, Banyo. It starts with Mass at 5pm with the rally starting at 7pm. Please speak to Mrs Melissa Haworth for more details.
